Gender-Based Violence in Emergencies

Research Query: Humanitarian Financing for National/Local Women's Organizations and Groups

Sept. 2020, updated Nov. 2021 and Feb. 2024

Introduction

Purpose of this document: Women around the world have lived experiences that are different from men, informed by norms that perpetuate gender inequality. This gender inequality in turn underpins multiple forms of violence that women and girls are exposed to across their lives. In humanitarian settings, certain types of violence against women and girls, (VAWG, also referred to as gender-based violence, or GBV) can increase. Women's rights organizations (WROs) and women-led organizations (WLO) with expertise in addressing GBV are often best placed to identify and meet the needs of women and girls affected by GBV in their communities, as well as to undertake contextually relevant strategies to prevent GBV.

A recent report by OCHA and UNFPA underscores the positive outcomes that providing direct funding to WROs and WLOs can have.<sup>1</sup> However, the report also highlights the many challenges that WROs and WLOs continue to have in accessing funding. This document was developed to identify potential sources of funding for local WROs and WLOs in order to support the scale-up of their work on GBV.

This list of donors is not exhaustive but serves as a starting point.

Methodology: This list of donors was identified using an on-line word search with a combination of the following words:

1. Humanitarian, emergencies, disaster, conflict, war,
2. Women, girls, women with disabilities, older women, women's rights, gender equality, gender-based violence,
3. Funders, funding, grants.

Additionally, relevant websites with a list of donors were scanned to see if any supported the combination of word concepts below. Where websites had limited information, donors were contacted directly for additional requirements.

Women’s organizations are encouraged to contact donors from these lists directly to gather additional information about funding parameters.<sup>2</sup>

The information is organized according to the following categories, starting with donors that have the highest likelihood to fund women’s organizations in emergency situations<sup>3</sup>:

1. Financing focused on women in humanitarian settings: This funding is available directly to local women’s organizations. These donors are known to invest in programs related to women/GBV and humanitarian needs.
2. Financing from multi-donor pooled humanitarian donors: These are typically larger grants that require national organizations with a dedicated grant writer and financial reporting systems. It may be that smaller women’s organizations can identify bigger organizations in their own country that receive funding from this pool to apply to be a sub-grantee.
3. Financing focused on prevention or mitigation of violence: These funding sources do not explicitly mention funding local groups in humanitarian settings. However, donors listed here could be approached by women’s organizations to explore the potential for funding - as these organizations are strong supporters of prevention of and response to GBV.
4. Financing focused on women and human rights: Again, these funding sources do not explicitly mention funding local groups in humanitarian settings but can still be approached by women’s organizations to open a dialogue on opportunities for support.
5. Financing focused on women and displacement: This funding source promotes the participation and leadership of displaced women and girls in socio-economic and political decision-making.
6. Crowd Funding: A short overview of Crowd Funding as an alternative option to formal fundraising.

1. Financing focused on women in humanitarian settings

1.1. The Women’s Peace and Humanitarian Fund

Type of project funded: This fund organizes Calls for Proposals with a geographical and thematic focus, to support local women’s civil society organizations on a wide range of projects contributing to peacebuilding and humanitarian action. Local, community-based organizations are particularly encouraged to apply for new funding opportunities.

Location: Multiple countries

Eligibility: International, national, and local women-led, women’s rights, feminist, or civil society organization with a proven track record collaborating with women and girls.

Grant size: The grant sizes vary depending on each call.

Application Procedures: Applicants must fill out an application form and email it to the person responsible.

Grant management: N/A

Closing date: Please check the website for open Call for Proposals.

Weblink: <https://wphfund.org/calls-for-proposals/>

1.2 Global Fund for Women - Crisis Grants

Type of project funded: Global Fund for Women’s primary goal is to get resources to organizations

<sup>2</sup> A handbook on fundraising for women’s organizations can be found here. This document is more tailored to development settings but nevertheless has useful tips for humanitarian women’s organizations.

<sup>3</sup> This information was accessed in September 2020 and updated in 2021 and 2024. Eligibility and grant cycles may change annually.

led by women, girls, and trans people. The Fund supports organizations led by historically marginalized groups who are working to build strong, connected movements for gender equality and human rights. They trust women, girls, and trans people to know how best to solve the problems in their communities. As funders, their goal is to provide resources that strengthen the agency, participation, and power of local organizations working directly in their communities. They provide:

- General support grants which provide flexible non-profit funding support to meet their partners' needs including salaries, communications, and travel.
- Crisis grants, accessible to current and former partners, as well as other organizations that are responding to crises with an intersectional feminist lens, by invitation, to provide urgent funding to respond to natural disasters, climate crises, public health crises, or escalation in political violence. This includes short-term grants to address immediate needs such as food, shelter, and security, as well as multi-year grants to help communities rebuild while addressing the root causes of gender injustice and structural inequalities.
- Travel or event grants which are suspended due to COVID-19 but will return in time.

Location: Global

Eligibility: Grantees are feminist groups and feminist funds and must be based in a country outside the United States. They have a primary focus on advancing gender justice, with these goals clearly reflected in their activities. Please note that groups whose sole purpose is to generate income or to provide charity to individuals are not eligible. Applicants must embrace collective action. Global Fund does not accept requests from individuals and does not fund projects proposed by or for the benefit of individuals (including scholarships). Applicants need to be governed, directed, and led by historically marginalized communities. Historically marginalized communities include cisgender and transgender women and girls; gender diverse and nonconforming people; racial, religious, and ethnic minorities; young people; sex workers; disabled people; and members of the LGBTQIA+ community. Applicants cannot be a government entity, political party of election campaign, or international organization proposing projects with local partners. Groups do not need to be registered non-governmental organizations (NGOs) to qualify for funding.

Grant size: Average grant size is 15,000 USD.

Application Procedures: Global Fund for Women invites women's rights groups to apply for crisis grants to respond to the following crisis situations: Climate and natural disasters, public health crises, and Sudden and drastic increases in political violence. In the past, Global Fund for Women has given grants to organizations providing crisis response to infectious disease outbreaks, large-scale floods, and sudden, massive displacement of people due to political violence. Please note that groups must be invited by Global Fund for Women to submit a crisis grant application. Due to limited funding and staff capacity, only groups that have previously received a grant from Global Fund for Women will be invited to submit a crisis grant proposal.

- Step 1: Register your organization by submitting an Organizational Profile.
- Step 2: Submit a proposal for a General Support or Crisis Grant when your organization is invited. Both steps must be completed through the online application site.

Grant management: At least three months for a decision on a general support grant proposal and at least three weeks on a travel or event proposal.

Closing date: Rolling basis- can emails questions to: grantsinfo@globalfundforwomen.org

1.3 Kvinna till Kvinna Foundation

Type of project funded: Kvinna till Kvinna is a Swedish foundation that promotes women's rights in more than twenty war- and conflict-affected countries in the Middle East, Africa, Europe, and the South Caucasus. Supporting over 110 partner organizations – because they believe women's rights activists know best what women and girls in their country need. Kvinna till Kvinna focuses on four key issues: gender-based violence, women's equal participation, economic empowerment and women, peace, and security.

Location: Fourteen country offices in conflict-affected areas. Country offices are in Amman, Beirut, Belgrade, Bukavu, Erbil, Jerusalem, Kyiv, Kigali, Monrovia, Pristina, Sarajevo, Skopje, Tbilisi and Tunis.

Eligibility: Kvinna till Kvinna has a careful internal mapping process to identify potential partners and assess fulfilment of partnership criteria and shared values. They do not generally consider spontaneous partnership applications. It is advised to start contact with the relevant country office or email or call contacts provided below.

Grant size: N/A

Application Procedures: Different regions and countries have different kinds of funding, and funding also changes from one program period to another. Applicants will have to approach country-level offices to learn about existing funding opportunities. On their webpage, there is a messaging centre, where women's groups can choose which office to send enquiries to.

1.5 MADRE

Type of project funded: MADRE provides support to projects aimed at advancing women's human rights by meeting urgent needs in communities and building lasting solutions to crises, delivering sustainable gender, racial, climate, and disability justice, centering the leadership of women and girls in their own communities. They support projects focused on:

- Humanitarian aid and supplies: Including shelter, medicine, wheelchairs, and other necessities.
- Direct services: This could include shelters for survivors of violence, health clinics, seed banks and water supply projects.
- Convening and movement building: This could involve supporting activists and organizations to share learning to strengthen movement work, strategy sharing and community organizing.
- Crisis support and legal aid for activists and Human Rights Defenders facing violence: This includes emergency relocation and legal aid to organizations and activists under threat and requiring urgent assistance.

- Skills and leadership development: This includes training for organizations to build leadership capacity to advocate for long-term social change.
- Advocacy and policy change: This includes funding training, stipends, travel, translation, and childcare to enable women's participation in policymaking spaces.
- Basic organizational needs: like stipends, travel, translation, and childcare.

Location: They are open to partnerships at global level. Previous partnerships have been established in countries like Myanmar, Nicaragua, El Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico, Haiti, Cuba, Colombia, Pakistan, Peru, Rwanda, Sri Lanka, Kenya, Bolivia, the countries of former Yugoslavia, Palestine, Lebanon, Iraq, Afghanistan, Brazil, Syria, Sudan, Cameroon, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Tanzania, Nepal, Korea, Philippines, the US-Mexico border, and Yemen.

Eligibility: MADRE provides trust-based grants to women- and girl-led groups that are often small, located in remote areas, and local organizations, networks and groups that are "under the radar" of other international funders and large aid organizations. They focus their partnerships on women-led organizations that prioritize the leadership of young women and girls, Indigenous women, Afro-descendant women, LGBTQI people, and people with disabilities.

Grant size: N/A

Application Procedures: MADRE does not hold open calls for grants or accept unsolicited grant applications. Their grantmaking model is based on direct partnerships with grassroots organizations after a direct identification and assessment process. If women's groups are interested to partner with MADRE or believe their organization could benefit from a MADRE grant, they are open to hearing from these groups. Please contact grants@madre.org with information about your work.

Grant management: N/A

Closing date: Rolling basis

1.6 Urgent Action Fund for Women

Type of project funded: UAFFW provides fast, flexible support to women, trans and non-binary activists so that they can respond to unexpected risks and opportunities, protect and care for themselves and one another, and nurture feminist movements that are creating a more just and equitable world.

- Security Grants: Available to activists whose safety and security is at risk. The grant amount is up to 8,000 USD for a total period of up to 3 months.
- Opportunity Grants: Support efforts focused on advocacy, awareness raising, influencing policy, and changing public discourse. The grant amount is up to 8,000 USD for a total period of up to 6 months.

Location: The fund makes grants to individual feminist activists, organizations, and movements in Canada, Central Asia, Europe, the Middle East, the Balkans, the Caucasus, and the United States..

Eligibility: Applications must be led by women/trans people and women/trans people must be the primary decision-makers in the organization, group, or action. The proposed actions must promote the advancement of women's or trans human rights using nonviolent tactics or strategies. For the Security Grants, the specific event or situation your organization is responding to must have been unanticipated, and actions must happen quickly to be effective. Applicants must have the support of others involved in women's human rights or related fields, locally or globally.

Grant size: Applicants for Security Grants can request up to 8,000 USD for immediate needs (for use within 3 months). Applicants for Opportunity Grants can request up to 8,000 USD for activities that will be conducted within the subsequent 6 months.

Grant management: They accept grant applications in any language, 365 days per year. They will respond to requests within 24 hours; however, proposals in languages other than Arabic, English, Spanish, Russian, or French may require additional time for translation. The details of the application process can be found at "The nuts and bolts: our grantmaking process".

Application Procedures: see Security Grant; Opportunity Grant.

Alternative Application Methods: download the Security Grant or Opportunity Grant application forms

(in 3 languages) and submit via email to proposals@urgentactionfund.org. If women's groups require additional security in sending grant applications, they are advised to consider submitting their email application via an encrypted route such as hushmail.com or protonmail.com. To do so, women's groups must first create a free account and submit their application to urgentactionfund@hush.com, or urgentact@protonmail.com. If groups have difficulty writing, typing, or accessing a computer, they may submit a request by voicemail or SMS text message: +1- 415-4WOMEN5 (+1- 415-496-6365).

2. Financing from multi-donor pooled humanitarian donors

2.1 Country Based Pooled Funds (CBPFs)

Type of project funded: This is a multi-donor pooled humanitarian financing instrument intended to make funding directly available to humanitarian partners operating in countries affected by emergencies. The funds support the highest-priority projects of the best-placed responders (including international and national NGOs and UN agencies) through an inclusive and transparent process that supports priorities set out in Humanitarian Response Plans (HRPs).

Location: Global. In 2018, CBPF allocated more than 792 million USD to 661 partners in seventeen countries to support 1,365 critical humanitarian projects. As of 2019, the CBPF consisted of 946 million USD. In 2022, the CBPFs allocated a record 1.2 billion USD, enabling partners to address the humanitarian needs of an estimated 47 million people. 540 million USD (44 per cent) went directly to international NGOs, 339 million USD (28 per cent) to local and national NGOs, 6 million USD to Red Cross/Red Crescent societies (1 per cent) and 336 million USD (28 per cent) to UN agencies. As a result, local organizations received 441 million USD, 36 per cent of the total 2022 funding allocated by CBPFs.

Eligibility: National and local women's organizations and groups can access CBPF directly, provided they are registered as an NGO and participate in the cluster system, paying particular attention to the Protection Cluster, the GBV Sub Cluster and Child Sub Cluster, membership of which is a pre-requisite to apply for CBPFs. Women's organizations and groups may also access CBPFs indirectly through an intermediary such as another UN agency or INGO if they are selected as a sub-contractor or sub-grantee.

Grant size: Past grantees have received from 500,000 USD to 1.2 million USD (see p.34 of the CBPF Handbook).

Application Procedures: Applications must be submitted through the CBPF Grant Management System (GMS).

Grant management: CBPFs are established by the UN ERC when a new emergency occurs or when an existing humanitarian situation deteriorates. CBPFs are managed locally by the Resident Humanitarian Coordinator, with the support of OCHA and an Advisory Board.

Closing date: Start date for projects vary country to country. Please check the website for updates.

Weblink: <https://www.unocha.org/country-based-pooled-funds>

2.2 Global Innovation Fund (GIF)

Type of project funded: A pooled financing mechanism which invests in the development, testing, and scaling of innovations intended to improve the lives of poor and marginalized groups.

GIF recognizes that prevailing issues in the developing world, such as food insecurity and malnutrition, global health crises, and climate change and forced migration, disproportionately affect women and girls. The initiatives in GIF's Innovating for Gender Equality Fund seek to shift the harmful social structures and norms that perpetuate gender inequality in the developing world. At the core of GIF's approach is a focus on increasing the agency of women and girls. The Fund is made possible through the support of Global Affairs Canada.

Location: Global

Eligibility: The GIF welcomes applications from any type of organization working in any sector in any developing country. National and local women's organizations and groups can apply directly. The GIF considers applications that are:

- Focused on the poor;
- Utilize novel approaches which are not commonplace;
- Improve upon alternative solutions;
- Are backed by evidence of potential impact;
- Can be widely applied in many different settings;
- Have the potential to scale up to reach millions of people;
- Are led by strong dynamic teams;
- Are ready for investment;
- Will generate new knowledge of what works;
- Have a clear role for the Global Innovation Fund.

Grant size: Disburses between 50,000 USD to 15 million USD in various forms of capital (equity, debt, grants, and others).

Application Procedures: The GIF welcomes applications for funds on a continual basis. There are three stages to the application process: (i) Initial Application, (ii) Full Application, and (iii) Funding Agreement. This is a light-touch process for stages 1 and 2, with more information required should the GIF seek to enter into a funding agreement with the selected organization.

Grant management: This is a non-profit innovation fund, with its headquarters in London and an office in Washington D.C. It is supported by the UK Department for International Development, the United States Agency for International Development, the Omidyar Network, the Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency, Global Affairs Canada, the Department for Foreign Affairs and Trade in Australia and the Department for Science and Technology in South Africa.

Closing date: Rolling applications accepted: Apply for Funding

Weblink: <https://globalinnovation.fund>

2.3 Start Fund

Type of project funded: Provides funding to respond to under-the-radar, small to medium crises, when there are spikes in chronic humanitarian crises, and to act in anticipation of impending crises, filling a critical gap in the humanitarian aid system. The Start Fund focuses on three types of humanitarian needs:

- Underfunded small to medium-scale crises
- Forecasts of impending crises
- Spikes in chronic humanitarian crises.

Funding is disbursed within 72 hours after members raise a crisis alert.

Location: Member's network

Eligibility: Only Start Network members can access the fund. Projects are chosen by local communities, made up of staff from members of the Start Network and commence within 72 hours of an alert. Start Network is one of the fastest, collectively owned, early response mechanisms globally. Applications for membership of the Start Network are currently closed. However, the Start Network is developing a new form of membership to enable a wider range of organizations to join. They are in the process of developing a decentralized network of regional and national hubs. The first national Start Fund was launched in Bangladesh in April 2017, to allow national and local NGOs to access funding collectively managed by members. Plans are underway to launch more national Start Funds in DRC, Pakistan, India, Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, Myanmar, and the Philippines.

Grant size: Up to 300,000 GBP per member agency for any emergency. A total of 9 million GBP is disbursed on an annual basis.

Application Procedures: Any member of the Start Network can raise an alert. An Allocation Committee then meets to decide whether to activate the fund. If the fund is activated, Project Selection

Committees are convened. Funds are dispersed within 24 hours of the Project Selection Committee's decision. Project implementation should begin within seven days and completed within 45 days of a funding decision. Reports need to be submitted within 60 days of funds being transferred. For inquiries, please contact startfund@startprogrammes.org

Grant management: The Start Fund is owned and managed by Start Network's members, which comprise both international and national NGOs. The Start Fund is supported by the governments of the United Kingdom, Ireland, the Netherlands, Germany, Jersey, and the IKEA Foundation.

Closing date: At any point that a member raises an alert. No firm closing date.

Weblink: <https://startnetwork.org/start-fund>

2.4 Women's Peace and Humanitarian Fund (WPHF)

Type of project funded: Aims to increase funding for women's participation, leadership and empowerment in humanitarian response and peacebuilding. Since its creation, the WPHF has allocated 10 million USD to 41 projects and 55 organizations in Burundi, Colombia, Jordan, Iraq and the Pacific Islands (Fiji, Palau, Samoa, Solomon Islands, and Vanuatu).

Location: Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Burundi, CAR, Colombia, the DRC, Haiti, Iraq, Jordan, Liberia, Malawi, Mali, Myanmar, Nigeria, Palestine, Pacific, Papua New Guinea, Somalia, South Sudan, Sri Lanka, Turkey, Uganda, Ukraine and Yemen.

Eligibility: To apply for the Primary Funding Cycle, the women's organization and group must be based in one of the eligible countries listed.

Application Procedures: Primary Funding Cycle: Calls for proposals and specific requirements can be found here.

Grant management: Global Funding Board – The Funding Board is composed of four UN entities, four civil society organizations and the four largest donors. Current Funding Board members include United Nations Development Program (UNDP), United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), UN Women, the UN Peacebuilding Support Office, the Global Network of Women Peacebuilders, Cordaid, West Africa Network for Peacebuilding, Asia Pacific Women's Alliance for Peace and Security, Canada, Spain, Ireland, and the United Kingdom. The Funding Board decides on a global list of eligible countries and prioritizes countries for fund allocation. Global Technical Secretariat – The Global Technical Secretariat reviews proposals to ensure projects meet eligibility criteria and if approved monitors progress through projects reports and field visits. National Steering Committee – Prepares and issues a call for proposals.

Closing date: Rolling basis and based on calls. Organizations have 20 working days to submit proposals after a call for proposals.

Weblink: <http://wphfund.org>

3. Financing focused on prevention or mitigation of violence

3.1 International Nonviolence Training Fund (INTF)

Type of project: The International Nonviolence Training Fund (INTF) of the A. J. Muste Institute funds projects that promote the principles and practice of nonviolent social change. Nonviolent trainings seek to help people develop and improve the skills they need to combat systemic injustice through organized, principled, nonviolent action.

Location: Worldwide

Eligibility: Projects eligible for support include:

- Those which prepare participants for specific nonviolent actions or campaigns;
- Those which build capacity and leadership among people engaged in nonviolent struggles;
- Those geared to "training the trainers," in order to expand and multiply nonviolence training
- Throughout a targeted community. Preference is given to projects involving trainers from the local area or region in cases where trainers are available, groups which are community-based and have less access to funding from other sources. The INTF takes seriously the gender balance within the training team for the projected participants.

The INTF does not fund:

- Trainings which are geared primarily toward resolving conflicts between individuals, building life skills or job skills, or achieving personal empowerment or economic independence.
- Conflict resolution or violence reduction programs which do not directly promote activism for social justice.
- Scholarships or other funding for people to travel abroad to attend courses or training sessions.
- Trainings with budgets over 50,000 USD, or organizations with annual budgets over 500,000 USD.

Grant size: The maximum grant amount is 4,000 USD.

Application Procedures: Follow the INTF Grant Application Instructions to apply for an INTF grant. Fill out the INTF Grant Application Form. Email the completed form (preferably in MS Word, Open/ Libre Office, or RTF format) with all required attachments to intf@ajmuste.org with the subject line "INTF" followed by the name of your group. See:

<https://ajmuste.org/sites/default/files/attach/INTF%20Grant%20Guidelines.pdf>

Grant management: If the applicant's proposal is selected, the applicant should expect a call or email from one of their grant researchers with any questions they might have.

Closing date: The deadlines for proposals are the first Friday in March, September and December.

Weblink: <https://ajmuste.org>

3.2 Amplify Change

Type of project funded: The five areas of focus for Amplify Change are:

- Addressing gender-based violence, including sexual violence and female genital mutilation;
- Addressing the causes of unsafe abortion including decriminalization of abortion;
- Challenging stigma, discrimination, attitudes, and laws that undermine human rights, including on grounds of gender or sexual orientation of LGBTI individuals;
- Improving sexual health of young people and girls, including comprehensive sexuality education, and addressing child and early marriage;
- Increasing access to comprehensive reproductive health services for socially and economically marginalized and vulnerable groups.

They offer three grants for national organizations:

- Opportunity grants to support small and new organizations to support sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) advocacy at the local level.
- Strengthening grants to support and strengthen the work of small to medium civil society organizations, partnerships, and coalitions.
- Network grants for organizations registered in Sub-Saharan Africa and South Asia capable of convening and supporting multiple small-to-medium sized civil society organizations to build stronger, more inclusive, and resilient movements. In 2018, they introduced eligibility for Network grant funding to the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) that are listed as a recipient country by the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development's (OECD) Development Assistance Committee (DAC).

Location: Almost all their grantees are based in Sub-Saharan Africa and South Asia. They focus their grant funding on where the needs are greatest.

Eligibility: Amplify Change accepts proposals from civil society organizations who are:

- Located in, and implementing a project in, one of the Amplify Change eligible countries listed under each grant type.
- Working on advocacy aiming to achieve change in one of our outcome areas.
- Focusing on one or more of our sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) priority areas.

Amplify Change will consider applications from civil society actors - community groups, non-governmental organizations, indigenous groups, charitable organizations, faith-based organizations, research institutes, social enterprise groups, public-private partnerships, communications and media groups and professional associations. Amplify Change does not provide financial support to:

- International non-governmental organizations (INGOs) based in high-income countries (HICs).

- UN agencies
- Individual activists or researchers
- Organizations seeking to deliver services unless they contribute to SRHR advocacy and movement building.

Lead organizations must be registered in an Amplify Change eligible country. If you have questions about eligibility, find more information here: <https://amplifychange.org/faqs/>

Grant size:

- Opportunity Grant: 40,000 EUR for 1 year.
- Strengthening Grant: 40,000 to 100,000 EUR for 1 year.
- Network Grant: 150,000 to 550,000 EUR for two years.

Application Procedures: Can be submitted in French or English. You can find the application guidance here. Organizations should apply online via the grants portal. The way to apply for a grant depends on the type of grant applied for. At present, all grant applications are closed.

Grant management: Successful applicants must undertake due diligence and financial assessments. This can take some time, despite best efforts.

Closing date: Depends on grant.

Weblink: <https://amplifychange.org/>

3.3 Foundation Pro Victims

Type of project funded: This foundation supports projects that:

- Provide medical, psychosocial, and economic rehabilitation for self-reconstruction;
- Fight against sexual violence and other types of gender-based violence, with priority given to violence against women/girls and including sexual violence against men/boys, abuse and violence against minors, violence against LGBTIQ minorities and work with perpetrators of GBV;
- Fight against serious violations of fundamental rights against people made vulnerable due to a specific situation: crimes against humanity, genocide, torture, land grabbing, rights of ethnic minorities, human trafficking, modern slavery, natural disasters;
- Provide prevention and education for change of mentality;
- Combat stigmatization;
- Build local capacity;
- Improve accessibility for people with a physical and/or mental disability;
- Combat the effects of diseases;
- Strengthen legislation and law enforcement;
- Fight against denial and impunity.

Location: The Foundation works in 14 priority countries: Guatemala, Iraq, Lebanon, Yemen, Nepal, Bangladesh, Myanmar, Laos, Burkina Faso, Sierra Leone, Eritrea, Somalia, Rwanda, Uganda.

Eligibility: National or international NGOs with recognized expertise, proven skills, and direct responsibility for the project; also with prior experience in international financing. Applicants need to be co-financed and to have an annual organizational budget of less than 1 million USD.

Grant size: N/A

Application Procedures: The form can be downloaded from their website.

Grant management: Created in Geneva in 1988, Pro Victims is a private foundation under Swiss public law. It consists of a Board of Trustees which sets the lines of intervention and decides on the allocation of funds, as well as a Secretariat which studies and analyzes the projects with a view to submitting them to the Board for approval and monitors funded projects.

Closing date: Rolling.

3.8 The Oak Foundation

Type of project funded: The Oak Foundation recognizes that unequal power relations are created and encouraged by legal, political, economic, and cultural systems, but also believes in their capacity to change. The Issues Affecting Women Programme supports women's efforts to create this change – to build, lead, and grow strong, vibrant, and influential movements in order to achieve equity and justice. The foundation envisions a world where women have the capacity, resources, and opportunity to be safe and free, and to enjoy their human rights. The Oak Foundation:

- Supports women-led rights-based services that address violence against women;
- Provides primarily long-term support as an act of solidarity, helping movements to achieve the lasting change needed for us all to thrive;
- Connects organizations and movements, and resource them to learn from each other and work together, to develop knowledge and skills, and to plan, organize, and mobilize.

They fund initiatives that target the root causes of issues; are replicable within a sector or across geographical locations; include plans for long-term sustainability; strive to collaborate with like-minded organizations; demonstrate good financial and organizational management; value the participation of people and communities.

Location: Balkans, Brazil, Central America, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Mexico, Switzerland, the United Kingdom, and the United States. The foundation also funds in Moldova, Bulgaria, the North Caucasus and (Jharkhand and West Bengal) India. They also have other funding streams not focused on women but that women's organization could apply for that cover a wider geographic area. Eligibility: They do not fund individuals, scholarships, religious organizations, or election campaigns. They support women's organizations and groups that:

- Adopt a rights-based approach to services and advocacy;
- Amplify women's power and agency as full and equal participants in society;
- Employ a holistic approach, taking into consideration various contexts and cultures and addressing root causes;
- Promote systemic change by strengthening legal frameworks and holding governments and institutions to account;
- Contribute to the broader women's movement by complementing individual and community action with networking and joint advocacy initiatives;
- Build evidence that contributes to best practices and catalyzes innovation; and
- Work to change behavior and attitudes to prevent violence.

Grant size: Past grantees listed on their website received a range from 200,000 USD to 1 million USD. In 2018 the Issues Affecting Women Program made twenty-three grants totaling 17.95 million USD. Other than unique circumstances or in the case of Zimbabwe, they do not provide grants under 25,000 USD.

Application Procedures: Organizations must first submit a letter of enquiry or concept note; promising applications are then invited to complete an application for funding. This process does not have a set period, but it can take from two months to more than a year from the submission of a concept note to final approval.

Grant management: Funding decisions are made by the Board of Trustees, either individually or as a group. While the Board of Trustees meets twice annually, grants are considered on a rolling basis throughout the calendar year.

Closing date: Rolling basis

4. Financing focused on women and human rights

4.1 Women's Peace and Humanitarian Fund (WPHF)

Type of project funded: Aims to increase funding for women's participation, leadership and empowerment in humanitarian response and peacebuilding. WPHF has launched a new campaign: 40 by 20 for Women: Investing in Women Working to Build Peace & respond to Crises. This campaign aims to mobilize 40 million USD by the end of 2020 to support women-led local, grassroots and community-based organizations in the 24 countries listed below.

Location: Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Burundi, CAR, Colombia, the DRC, Haiti, Iraq, Jordan, Liberia, Malawi, Mali, Myanmar, Nigeria, Palestine, Pacific, Papua New Guinea, Somalia, South Sudan, Sri Lanka, Turkey, Uganda, Ukraine and Yemen.

Eligibility: To apply for the Rapid Response Window funding, the women's organization must be from an ODA eligible country.

Application Procedures: The WPHF launched the Rapid Response Window (RRW) on Women's Participation in Peace Processes to address funding gaps related to women's participation in peace processes. The WPHF RRW provides financing for strategic and urgent initiatives that support the participation of women peacebuilders and women's civil society organizations in national, subnational, and international peace processes. The WPHF RRW has two funding streams, one which offers direct support and one which offers short-term grants.

Grant management: Global Funding Board - The Funding Board is composed of four UN entities, four civil society organizations and the four largest donors. Current Funding Board members include United Nations Development Program (UNDP), United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), UN Women, the UN Peacebuilding Support Office, the Global Network of Women Peacebuilders, Cordaid, West Africa Network for Peacebuilding, Asia Pacific Women's Alliance for Peace and Security, Canada, Spain, Ireland, and the United Kingdom. The Funding Board decides on a global list of eligible countries and prioritizes countries for fund allocation. Global Technical Secretariat – The Global Technical Secretariat reviews proposals to ensure projects meet eligibility criteria and if approved monitors progress through projects reports and field visits. National Steering Committee – Prepares and issues a call for proposals.

Closing date: Rolling basis and based on calls. Organizations have 20 working days to submit proposals after a call for proposals.

Weblink: <http://wphfund.org>

4.2. Waterloo Foundation

Type of project funded: Waterloo Foundation funds programs under three thematic priorities: world development, environment and child development. Under World Development, the Foundation sets a priority on Sexual and Reproductive Health (SRH), with issues that include improving access to and use of a range of modern contraceptive methods and wider reproductive services, financing in-country advocacy and accountability for increased funds to sexual and reproductive health (SRH), improving the commercial sector's role in delivering SRH, and supporting social enterprise to deliver SRH services. It also funds programs that improve the reach of successful evidence-based SRH initiatives and those that provide in-country capacity building to community-based organizations.

Location: Global

Eligibility: Organizations must have a yearly income over 250,000 GBP. Applicants from outside the UK must send the contact details of a named person who can provide a reference for their work. This referee must satisfy one or more of the following characteristics:

- Works for an international NGO with offices in the UK;
- Works for an organization the Foundation has previously given a grant;
- Works for an organization with offices in the UK, which has been a current or former donor to your organization;
- Works for an academic institution, think tank or as an independent consultant who is based in the UK, and who has evaluated your organization.

Grant size: 100,000 GBP over 2-3 years

Application Procedures: Applicants should provide a one-page (one-inch margin, 11-point font) overview of the organization and how it fits in with Waterloo Foundation's priorities related to SRH. Please find detailed guidance on the application here.

Grant management: N/A

Closing date: Applications are accepted on a rolling basis.

Weblink: <https://www.waterloofoundation.org.uk/GrantProgrammes.html>

4.3. Open Society Foundation

Type of project funded: The Open Society Foundation works to build vibrant and tolerant democracies whose governments are accountable to their citizens. In pursuit of this mission, they work on a wide variety of issues both geographically and thematically. National and regional foundations affiliated with Open Society also focus on the open society issues and concerns most relevant in their countries or regions.

Open Society awards grants to organizations, which can include movements, coalitions, networks, collectives, and even informal groups. These organizations are mostly identified by the OSF's own program staff, and they support a wide range of activities, from small project grants to general operating support that cover the day-to-day costs of operations up to maximum one-third of any organization's budget.

Location: Global

Eligibility: They can provide funding directly to formally established organizations around the world as well as to informal organizations or networks through intermediaries (fiscal sponsors, fiscal agents). Each program within the Open Society Foundation has its own strategy and process for selecting grantees. Organizations or individuals whose values, goals, and work align with said strategies should inquire with the relevant program to see whether there is a fit.

Grant size: N/A

Application Procedures: The process for applying for grants varies by grand and/or fellowship program. Some use requests for proposals (RFPs), others invite letters of inquiry (LOIs) or concept papers, and certain others accept proposals by invitation only. Given that each program has specific grant-making processes, it is best to inquire with that program to explore fit and process. Any questions can be directed to: osfellows@opensocietyfoundations.org

Grant management: Open Society can provide both project and general support. When appropriate, the Open Society Foundation seeks to provide grantees with flexibility on how to use the funds where appropriate, including but not limited to widespread support.

Closing date: Variable according to program window.

Weblink: <https://www.opensocietyfoundations.org/grants>

4.4 Fund for Global Human Rights

Type of project funded: Their Legal Empowerment Fund \(LEF\) offers long-term core funding to grassroots activists and organizations who are supporting their communities to tackle systemic injustices and advocate for expanded protections under the law. They make grants to local, national, and regional non-profit, human rights organizations based in the countries where they have grant programs (see below). They focus on legal empowerment, climate justice, LGBTQ rights, building civil power, women's rights, migrants' rights, and children and youth rights.

Location: Global

Eligibility: They only accept applications from invited organizations. They currently have a Call for Expressions of Interest open for invited Legal Empowerment Groups in Southeast Asia who use legal empowerment strategies to pursue land and environmental justice focusing on women, youth, or disabled people.

Grant size: Not detailed on the website.

Application Procedures: They work on the basis of Calls for Expression of Interest by invitation only. The application site can be accessed here and requires a user and a coda provided with the invitation to apply.

Grant management: N/A

Closing date: Based on call in the specific country of interest.

Weblink: <https://globalhumanrights.org/grants/>

4.5 The Points Guy Airline Miles

Type of project funded: The Points Guy has committed to donating five million miles in the next year for local women's organizations and movements. This will cover the costs of flights for activists to ensure their voices can be heard by key decision-makers and they can raise awareness of their campaigns.

Location: Global

Eligibility: Women's Rights Organizations from the Global South.

Grant size: N/A

Application Procedures: Applications can be made through the online form. Any questions can be directed to tpggivesback@thepointsguy.com

Grant Management: Following an application a member of The Points Guy will be in touch.

Closing Date: Applications accepted on a rolling basis.

Weblink: <https://thepointsguy.com/giving-back/>

5. Financing focused on women and displacement

5.1 WPHF Funding Initiative on Forced Displacement

Type of project funded: The WPHF Funding Initiative on Forced Displacement promotes the participation and leadership of displaced women and girls in socio-economic and political decision-making. WPHF seeks to fund local civil society organizations and projects led by and working alongside forcibly displaced women through two primary funding streams:

- Programmatic funding: aligned with WPHF impact area 6.
- Institutional funding: aligned with WPHF impact area 1.

Location: Currently implemented in 10 countries (Colombia, Nigeria, Yemen, Bangladesh, Iraq, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Tajikistan, Ukraine and Moldova)

Eligibility:

- Programmatic funding: civil society organizations contributing to enhanced socio-economic recovery and the political participation of women and girls in peacebuilding.
- Institutional funding: local civil society organizations working with women and girls in forced displacement, aiming to reinforce the institutional capacity of their organizations.

Grant size:

- Programmatic funding from 30,000 USD to 500,000 USD
- Institutional funding from 2,500 USD to 30,000 USD

Application Procedures: The WPHF issues country-based calls for proposals that are published on the website.

Grant management: This Funding Initiative is part of WPHF's regular funding cycle and with an initial investment of 20.5 Million EUR by the German Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ).

Closing Date: Rolling-basis.

Weblink: <https://wphfund.org/the-wphf-funding-window-on-forced-displacement/>

6. Crowd Funding Opportunities

Another fundraising option for women's organizations to consider is 'crowd funding.' Websites such as (1) globalgiving.com or (2) GoFundMe.com have been set up and have in some cases allowed women's organizations to raise funds of various amounts from the public, including from people living outside of the country. This method can rapidly activate cash if payment transfers between countries are viable. This grassroots option requires a compelling narrative, disseminated via the crowd funding website. Local or national women's organizations who have allies or offices in other countries (e.g., Global North), featuring members with vibrant social networks, can start a campaign. The amount successfully fundraised depends on those who can be reached through the social networks of those disseminating the crowd funding website. Amounts fundraised typically range within 5USD -10,000 USD, which can be useful for some groups. Higher amounts have also been fundraised as seen in the following example:

<https://www.globalgiving.org/projects/end-impunity-justice-for-yezidi-women-and-girls/> (30,000 USD of 100,000 USD goal achieved)
